

Arts in the Right Place

Cultural learning symposium for artists, educators and providers

The symposium aims to:

- Celebrate the diversity and depth of local cultural learning opportunities
- Experience artistic performances and presentations from children and young people
- Discuss the value the arts bring to a holistic, rich curriculum, including supporting health and wellbeing
- Explore case studies from schools in the local area
- Connect with MAKE, the local Cultural Education Partnership, and local arts and creative organisations

Target audience: teachers, leaders in education, artists and all who are interested in cultural education

Wednesday 14 October 16:30 - 18:00
